HONORABLE MENTION.

The Jews incredulously asked "Can anything good come from Nazareth" and we know of a few striplings in this city who fancy we have never a good word for B. Aires. Forgetful of Mr. Hadfield's testimony, "that we have rendered immense service to the Republic, in European estimation," forgetful of our unmercenary labors for cotton-planting; forgetful of the reform we are working in the camp, among our own countrymen; and of our zeal to advance and improve this province: they only remember, that we sneered at the laurels of Cañada Gomez, cried down the Police tyranny, ridiculed the Bank, demanded justice in Guardia Monte, abused the Municipality, attacked stupid ministers and sleepy magistrates, told the truth in a cost of 12,000 $ per annum, and gained a reputation of sparing no one —not even the Bishop—when at fault.

It is, therefore, to us doubly pleasing to publish facts which speak highly for Argentine integrity—but which we should pass over in silence, were we to imitate the rule of the "Tribuna" clique, & Ministry, who have not the common honesty to thank us for the cotton-seed and gins imported Not long ago we mentioned the acknowledgments of Rev. Mr. Stirling, who had left his purse in a hack-coach, and received the same intact, next day, from the honest jarvey. The present case is equally honorable.

Mr. James Gaynor, an Irish estanciero of Capilla Señor, had occasion on last Saturday to apply at the Oficina de Marcas, in our Police department, for renewal of his cattle mark. By chance he left his pocket-book on the table, and went away Sooner had he missed the same, he endeavored vainly to recollect where he had left it. At length he resolved to inquire at the Policia, and "Standard" office. Meantime the official of Marks had found the book and examined its contents. When Mr. Gaynor asked whether he had left his purse in the office, the honest finder inquired its contents. "Nineteen thousand dollars" was the reply; and immediately the pocket book was handed him from a drawer.

Need we observe that hundreds of persons enter said office, and even if the owner had remembered leaving his purse on the table, he could hardly expect to recover it. He offered a handsome reward to the gentleman who saved his property, and was politely refused. He requests me to bring the name of his benefactor, but requests this public declaration, to prove the honor of B. Ayrean officials and the gratitude of one countryman.

But, as the another subject, more popular and general in its bearing. The Society of Beneficence is not sufficiently known among our readers, while deserving the most unqualified praises. The public Hospitals, schools, foundling-house &c. are not here distinct charities, as in Europe: stranger shall they are supported and managed alike. A phenomenal record of one decade that fair sex of Buenos Aires possesses intellectual developments far superior to the "lords of creation." We incline decidedly to prefer the latter, but apart from such impossible prejudice, it must be admitted that woman's empire is peculiarly the sick bed, nursery, and infant refuge house. Hence we see how eminently successful is the arrangement. The hospitals are models of their kind, as we learn from foreign invalids; the schools are excellent, in needlework, embroidery, and such feminine duties; the foundling house saved our city from the crime of infantic de, too prevalent in England, and the Society of Beneficence merits, in these columns, a hearty expression of gratitude from a nine hundred guinea prize.

A spirit of benevolence is covered in B. Aires which affords a lovely contrast to the bitterness of party-politics and the record bloody wars. The French hospital (founded 1838) from one Portella, and 10,000$ from another, verifying the grand principle, that Charity knows of neither national nor religious distinction. Let us hope that such good example will fail to produce its fruits; and in concluding this brief tribute to Argentine merit, we fervently desire that all public employees may exhibit the same integrity as our friend of the Oficina de Marcas; and that the patrons of B. Ayres may perpetuate in their daughters the cosmopolitan philanthropy which at present characterizes the praiseworthy Society of Beneficence.

MONTEVIDEO.

Our talented colleague, D. Nicolas A. Calvo, who was fast verging on the condition of old bachelor, has yielded to the blandishments of the fair sex; the bride of the literary Paladin is the widow of Gov. Virasoro. We wish our estimable friend all manner of happiness in his new undertaking. The consentient question seems at last settled, Dr Vasquez retiring from the usurped vicariate, and Dr Pardo acting as temporary director. The affairs of Montevideo are covered with gloom. The tobacco of the Civil Company, which is expected there on the 1st prox. The British Clerks have established an association similar to that of B. Ayres, including, however, all other speaking English. The Anglo Brazilian bank advertises an agency in the capital, drawing bills to the amount of 1000 patacons: this is highly convenient, and might be imitated with profit by others. The Villa Sallo received 74 passengers, of the French brigue Paladin, from Rosario, for Buenos Aires; they will thus readily demand as good wages. The English brig David has arrived in Montevideo from the Falkland Islands, in ballast. A new professor of tactics has been appointed to the military school. The Bank of B. Ayres was said to be eagerly buying ounces in the Oriental market, to a high figure, having failed to negociate a loan. The Mersey leaves Montevideo on Friday next.

The medical board is paying great attention to the vaccine department during the past half year, 581 persons have undergone this very necessary operation, and Dr. Perez has dispatched a circular to the several departments, with all the requisites for vaccination. A large number of Orientals intend visiting B. Ayres, during Holy Week, and assisting at the Easter Races of Belgrano.

PARAGUAY.

The new President holds frequent parades: he has received some flattering congratulations from the French press, being regarded as the greatest friend of progress in this continent. A tram-way is in construction from San Roque to Salnar, to facilitate the transport of materials for prolongation of the Ayrgua railroad. Lake Ypacarai is frequented by the fashionables of Asuncion, for bathing: the train conveying them to the water's edge. Balls and processions are of weekly occurrence at the Arcgan terminus. The "Semanario" combats ably the ridiculous assertion that yerba-mate is to unwholesome. A new line of steamers is commenced for the improvement of the arsenal, was wounded by a murderous workman: we are glad to learn he is recovering. Paraguay could scarcely spare such a hero. The lost vessel made itself to Concordia. Paris, although not reaching the maximum of B. Aires, the mercury standing at 94 in the shade, D. Ludovico Teneg is named Con ul at Paris. Padre Isasi has received a life-pension. Col. Resquin has been restored to the command of Villa Concepcion.

BRITISH HOSPITAL.

A General meeting of subscribers to this Institution was held (in accordance with advertisement) on the 23rd ult. in the school-room of the English church.

We noticed the following gentlemen present:—Mess. Parish, Getting, Gifford, Thompson, Camm, Shaw, Peters, Barton, Fennessy, Alton, Darbyshire, Leslie, Hart, Twyford, Bell. Auchterlony, Hudson, Ramsay, Myles, Harratt, Hall, Darbyshire, Rev Messrs Ford and Smith.

F. Parish Esq., in the Chair

Who opened the proceedings by stating that the object of the meeting was, to elect a new committee for the ensuing year, and also to hear remarks from any of the gentlemen present respecting the institution. Some casual remarks took place, and some of gentlemen not having been present at the last meeting, Mr. C. B. Getting, secretary, read the report of the outgoing committee for the information of those present, and also a copy of which has already appeared in our columns.

Mr Parish then read some memorandum which he had already drawn up, and, as far as we recollect—not having a copy before us—was intended to define the position of himself and the chaplains when in committee, and that they have a vote the same as the other trustees, on all matters connected with the institution.

This gave rise to several remarks as to the position and responsibility of the trustees appointed, also as to their working with the permanent committee. It was afterwards put and carried that there should be a committee and a sub committee, and that the permanent members of the committee should have an equal vote with the rest of the members.

Mr Parish next proposed "that a matron should be appointed to the institution.

After some little discussion, the motion was lost by a large in parity.

Mr Parish then proposed that Dr Leeron be requested to act as visiting surgeon, and the return of Dr Fair.

Some discussion followed. Dr Leeron's letter of resignation to the late committee was read, in which he stated that "after a trial of three months, I find that I cannot, without great inconvenience to myself, and prejudice to my vate interests, continue to discharge the duties," etc The motion was lost by a large majority.

Some other minor points were discussed, respecting the power of the trustees, etc

Mr Parish then announced that the only matter now remaining was to elect another committee.

Some objections were made to Mr. Hall on the ground that he was not a subscriber to the institution where upon Mr. Hall who had been a subscriber previous to his leaving for England, but had not been applied to since his return immediately put his name down for $ 60 subscription. A spirit of discussion arose as to the construction of the act of Parliament regulating the rights of voting when it was unanimously agreed that the statute in question had no application to the matter in dispute and that the votes of any gentleman no matter how his contribution might be, would be accepted, as the statute in question, being a very old act, was regarded as obsolete.

Mr. E.T. Bulhall moved that the business for which the meeting was convened be proceeded with.

Mr. Thompson see nded the motion Rev. Mr. Smith, in most feeling terms, addressed the meeting.

Mr. C. T. Getting addressed the meeting he condemned the impropriety of introducing an Act of Parliament which could only exist to implement question. He defended the rights of all subscribers to a vote; he recapitulated the history of the institution, and the difficulties which had so long surrounded it; and he now asked the gentlemen present to support the economical measures which the former committee had so successfully carried out.

Mr. Harratt replied, and, in an able speech pointed out the absurdity of asking from an Hospital both Doctor and Matron; he felt sure that the British community in Buenos Ayres would be always both able and willing to support so necessary and meritorious an institution as the British Hospital.

Mr. W. C. Thompson then proposed the following gentlemen to act for the year 1863: Mr. Henry Harratt, Mr. T. B. Hall. Mr. J. Brown, Mr. Milligan, Mr. Seymon, Mr. Neild.

Mr. Darbyshire seconded.

The list was put to the vote of all those present and unanimously carried

Mr. Getting objected on the ground that as many parties had left the meeting, the election was informal, and demanded that another general meeting be held.

The meeting then resolved, and we are not aware who her it was decided necessary to call another general meeting or not.

FASHIONABLE INTELLIGENCE.

The President rode out on Saturday evening to Palermo accompanied by one of his daughters; he is much recovered, and looks considerably better.

The Minister of Foreign affairs drove to Palermo, with a select party.

The minister of Police and family also drove in an open carriage to Palermo. Mr. C. looks remarkably well not withstanding his arduous duties.

The Belgrano fete was crowded with fashionables on Sunday evening. The band played well. We noticed several of our Consular an l diplomatic residents mingling in the crowd of well dressed citizens who frequent this place. The soldiers were out in force and the policemen unobtrusive

DEATH OF A SISTER OF MERCY.

We regret to announce the death of one of those charitable Irish ladies who devote their lives to the care of the poor and sick, the education of the daughters of our Irish emigrant countrymen and the gratuitous instruction of poor native children. Miss Rogers was born in this country, and educated in the Irish convent, of which she became a novice only a few months since. She has been called away in the bloom of youth, and we sympathize with her distressed family, for the loss which they, and society at large, have sustained. She is, we believe, the first martyr of charity among our residents in this republic.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.

LOCAL EVENTS.

IMMIGRANTS—The Cristoforo Colombo from Genoa has brought 136 passengers. A few hours after landing almost all were employed

OUNCES—About fifteen thousand ounces left Buenos Ayres last week; the majority of them were sent up the river, to pay for hides &c. It is thought nearly as much more will be exported this week The casa de Moneda is working heaven and earth to get back the gold, but we very much doubt if they can do it as the specie is held in hands who, to say the least, are not very friendly to the currency.

THE MAILS—The mails per Mersey close to day at 11 O'C We make up supplemental mail tomorrow The Mersey will not leave Montevideo until 30th inst.

FOUND—One of Mr. White's horses has been found in the vicinity of the 11 de Sept. A trooper had bought him for 60$. We hope this trooper will be caught and punished.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH—Mr. Patrick Kilmurry, a sheep farmer, residing in the partido of the Barradero was found dead in the bottom of an old well at his house. The Juez has done nothing up to the present, although many suspect that poor Kilmurry was the victim of foul play.

DON MIGUEL HINES—A native of Montevideo, who was blind from his infancy and one of our most talented artists died of consumption a few days ago, regretted by his numerous friends.

He had a wonderful facility in retaining the most difficult music, which he went home and put it on his piano.

CIRCUS—The benefit of the young artist Mr. Charles Fish on Sunday night since a large audience & went off very well.

The tournament was much applauded.

We publish in another column the advertisement of the clown's benefit which offers a fair prospect of amusement for pleasure seekers.

ACCIDENT—One of the boats of the American corvette Jamestown at Montevideo was overturned with a crew of 22 men, belonging to the timely assistance of the authorities only ten were lost.

SAMPLES—We have received also a few samples of South Down wool from Messrs Getting and Young, from their establishment in the Banda Oriental near Fray Bentos. It is very clean and light and staple, and we in this province.

DR. CASTELLANOS — Special commissioner for the Government of Montevideo to the Papers Nuncio, left on Sunday, having terminated the question in a satisfactory manner.

Don Luis Lozano, President of the Municipality of that city accompanied him.

THE OCEAN CIRCUS—CARD.

The Director of the Ocean Circus is compelled to avail himself of the inadequate medium of a Card in the newspapers, to express his gratitude to this community for the kindness, Courtesy and patronage experienced by him during his sojourn in Buenos Ayres—To the Government, and especially the noble ruler of the Custom House and Police department, he is under especial obligations. And to the Public, who have so liberally sustained his entertainments, the only drawback to his thankfulness, is to feel that the attractions have not been more worthy of such distinguished generosity—To the press he wishes to say that he takes upon himself all the blame for the misunderstanding that existed for a short time—The cordial treatment during the latter part of the season convinces the Director that the temporary interruption of friendly relations arose solely from the Director's ignorance of the spirit and customs of the country—On the eve of the departure of the Director begs to say that of the kindly sentiments he entertains for the Foreign and native residents of Buenos Ayres are reciprocated by them, neither they nor he will regret the visit of the Ocean Circus.

Buenos Ayres, January 26 1864.

EDUCATION.

English Boarding, and day Seminary for young Ladies.
Calle Cangallo Parque

Mrs. Davis, having been latterly solicited, by several friends, to commence an establishment, of the above kind, begs to intimate to Parents and Guardians, that on the 3rd of February next, she will open a Boarding and day Seminary, for young Ladies. The large, commodious, self-continued House No. 220 calle del Parque, widely for situation primary for the purpose, cannot be surpassed.

Mrs. Davis thus procured the assistance of a highly accomplished young lady to co-operate with her.

The services of eminent professors will be engaged, and no exertion, or expense spared to render the course of studies pursued in this school as full as well grounded, sound and practical education to those placed under her charge.

Parents may rest assured that every care and attention will also be paid to the deportment and comfort of the young ladies, so as to render the establishment, more like a home, than a public Seminary.

Cards containing terms can be had on application at the above address.

References kindly permitted to Rev. James Smith, Rev. John G. Ferd Dr. Leslie, Messrs Charles Lumb, William Gilmour, Thomas Wilson Mathew P Russell. etc.
